'Pincers' Close on Trondheim

Final Bulletins ALLIES CONTROL NORWAY RAILWAY

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Reports filtering across the border into Sweden tonight said the Allies control the important railway district south of Trondheim, and are preparing for perhaps the first important land battle of the war. Advice reaching Swedish newspapers asserted anew that Elverum, 60 miles north of Oslo, and Hamar, 20 miles to the west, have been recaptured from the Germans.

The Allies are reported to be using the railways in order to establish a semi-circle around Trondheim, with the northern army, which attacked in the Trondheim sector Saturday, now moving for contact with the southern force in a joint offensive.

$500,000 Road Losses

EDMONTON (CP)—Floods in the last few days have caused $500,000 damage to Alberta highways and bridges, Hon. W. A. Fallick, minister of public works, estimated this afternoon.

24 Nais Sunk

LONDON (CP)—An official British statement tonight announced German warship "casualties" totalled 24 since the outbreak of war.

The total was apart from "large number of submarines," the statement said.

Tokyo Stocks Fall

TOKYO (CP-Havas)—Rumors of War Office plans to institute a system of profit control in the munitions industry beginning July 1 caused a fall on the Tokyo stock market today. Later it was learned the War Office intention is not to control profits but rather to rationalize the industry by price-fixing devices.

Planes Off England

LONDON (CP)—Unidentified planes, believed to be German, were reported off the southeast coast tonight. Heavy gunfire was heard.

Searchlights swept the sky and great flashes thought to have been caused by exploding bombs were seen just above the water.

Aircraft believed to be German also were reported off the east coast. Anti-aircraft guns fired and pursuit planes took off.

Speed Plane Output

LONDON (CP)—Sir Samuel Hoare, air secretary, tonight announced the appointment of Sir Charles Craven, armament expert, to assist Air Marshal Sir Wilfrid Freeman, head of the ministry's production department.

Duce to Meet Hitler

BRUSSELS (CP-Havas)—A Belgian news agency dispatch from Berlin tonight reported Premier Mussolini will visit Chancellor Hitler in the German capital early in May.

Hans-Georg von Mackensen, German ambassador to Italy, has been summoned to Berlin to lay plans for the meeting, the dispatch said.

2 Vessels Sunk

LONDON (CP)—The Norwegian steamship Bravore, 1,458 tons, sank today after an explosion off the southeast coast of England. Twenty of the crew of 24 were feared lost.

ROTTERDAM (CP)—Owners of the 951-ton Netherlands cargo ship Bernisse today announced the vessel had been sunk off the Norwegian coast on her way from Sweden to Holland with a load of ore. The crew of 18 was saved.

- 1—British pincer thrust from landings at Namsos and Andalsnes aims at recapturing Trondheim and railway across Norway's waistline.
- 2—From Bergen, where R.A.F. planes sank a Nazi transport, Germans move inland to consolidate positions in southern Norway.
- 3—Stavanger remains useless as Nazi air base, R.A.F. bomb raids continue.

John R. Green Suit Heard in Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Hearing was continued by Mr. Justice Ainslie W. Greene today in the action of John R. Green, St. Thomas lawyer, against four defendants in connection with his commitment to the Ontario Mental Hospital at London.

Mr. Justice Greene dismissed Mr. Green's damage action against the public trustee Saturday. The suit had been instituted on the contention that Green's estate was not conserved properly during his two years and 10 months in the mental hospital.

The judge also dismissed Mr. Green's action against G. A. P. Brickenden, London lawyer. He was sued as a partner of Alexander S. Ferguson, London lawyer, whom Green is suing on grounds he did not carry out according to instructions application for a writ of habeas corpus. Mr. Justice Greene found no partnership existed.

Remaining defendants are Magistrate E. S. Livermore and Crown attorney E. W. Haines of St. Thomas, and Dr. George H. Stevenson, medical superintendent at the hospital.

Refuse to Accept Canadian Money

Information was received today by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau from D. S. Libbey, superintendent of Glacier National Park, Montana, that "in view of the variable exchange rate established by banks in the United States relative to the value of the Canadian dollar in United States coin, it is necessary that we advise you and the Canadian people generally that it will not be possible for us to accept Canadian currency and coin at the entrance stations to Glacier National Park."

The officials suggest Canadians contemplating trips to the park have their Canadian money changed to American money in Canada.

800 R.A.F. TRIPS OVER GERMANY

LONDON (CP)—British reconnaissance planes have flown 800,000 miles in 800 flights over greater Germany since the start of the war, a Royal Air Force informant said today.

He declared the losses had been small and the scouting value of the flights amply justified them.

"Even at night Europe is not invisible from the sky," he said.

"Under the moon the rivers gleam, and metal flashes, and the lighter mass of a town is plainly distinguishable from the darkened countryside around it."

STAFF VICE-CHIEFS

LONDON (CP)—Appointment of vice-chiefs to "relieve the strain" on the chiefs of the three fighting staffs, which are on a 24-hour-a-day basis, was announced tonight in a statement from 10 Downing Street.

The new vice-chiefs, who will be members of the Board of Admiralty, the Army Council and the Air Council respectively, are: Naval—Vice-Admiral Tom S. V. Phillips.

Imperial General Staff—General Sir John Dill.

Air—Air Marshal R. E. C. Plesse.

To Leave Hungary

BUDAPEST (AP)—The United States legation today advised American citizens in Hungary to "decide as to the advisability of leaving for the United States while there still are means of egress available."

The legation notice said United States citizens should "consider the effect" which extension of the war to this part of Europe "would have on the possibility of travel."

Churchill on Air

LONDON (CP)—Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, will address the St. George's Day luncheon of the Royal Society of St. George's on Tuesday. The address will be carried over the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's national network and in the United States, from 7 to 7.30 a.m.

'P.M.' on Vacation

Allies to Prevent Violent Changes In Mediterranean

LONDON (CP)—Although it is true the Allies would not tolerate any unilateral change by Italy in the status quo of the Mediterranean area, it is premature to say formal warning to this effect has been made in Rome, it was stated in diplomatic quarters today.

So far the British government has confined itself to indicating at Rome the unfavorable impression created in London by the tone of Italian newspapers and to seeking to ascertain whether the press campaign presages a change in Italy's policy of non-belligerence. So far these feelers have produced no response from the Italian government.

The British and French governments have already indicated to Italy they are ready to undertake discussion of any question relating to the Mediterranean.

The Anglo-French attitude is clear. "The two governments are prepared to discuss any question but hold that a unilateral act, especially intervention by Italy in a neighboring country, would lead to generalization of the war."

DUCE'S SLOGAN

ROME (AP)—Premier Mussolini in a two-sentence speech gave "labor and arms" as the watchword of the Italian people in the war.

Newspapers underscored their warning of a week ago that Italy would not remain permanently outside the conflict.

Mussolini proclaimed the slogan yesterday from the balcony of the Palazzo Venezia after responding to cheers of a crowd gathered to celebrate the 2,692nd birthday anniversary of Rome, Italy's Labor Day.

"In this particular, eventful moment and on this day of the festival of labor the watchword is Labor and Arms," he said.

"I am certain this watchword will be heeded by all the Italian people from the Alps to the seas of the empire."

Giovanni Ansaldo, editor of Il Telegrafo di Leghorn, newspaper of the foreign minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano, predicted the victors of the war would attempt to "take possession of the whole world."

He reiterated the necessity of Italy being powerfully armed if she hoped to be on the side of the victors.

In a broadcast to the Italian armed forces, Ansaldo referred to his statement of a week ago when he said that "all Italians who think our country can remain out of the present conflict up to the end are mistaken and delude themselves."

He forecast a dire future for losers in the war. "They will be subjected to expropriation," he said. "They will be exploited in every possible manner. They will be reduced to the state of Chinese coolies compelled to toil for others."

Bomb Nazis Planes at Stavanger

A British bomber makes this striking photo of bombs bursting (left foreground) on Norway's Stavanger airport. Planes on ground are Nazi transport ships, with which hundreds of German troops have been flown to Norway. British have staged at least 11 bombing raids on airport since Germans occupied it. ## British Start Shelling Narvik As Forces in South Move

LONDON (CP)—A War Office statement tonight said:

"On our operation in support of the Norwegians, our troops landing at many places have achieved considerable success in the face of great difficulties."

"They have gained touch with Norwegian forces, to whom they are giving all support in their power."

Allies to Wrest Town From Nazis

STOCKHOLM (AP)—British warnings that the far north Norwegian port of Narvik, held by Germans, would be bombarded, and advising residents to leave the town before firing starts were broadcast three times today.

The British gave the Narvik citizens until 3 p.m. (6 a.m. P.S.T.) to leave the beleaguered port.

The British decision to subject Narvik to concentrated bombardment apparently was the Allied answer to the German aerial attack yesterday on Namsos, Norwegian port south of Narvik and a landing place for British troops.

(In Berlin, the German news agency claimed Namsos and Andalsnes, another western Norway port, were bombed by the German air force and were left in flames.)

Fast-moving columns of British and French troops, striking swiftly inland from debarkation points on Norway's coast, were reported today engaged in a series of fierce clashes with German forces on the Trondheim and Oslo fronts.

The conflict in Norway was shaping into a full-fledged war in the modern style, with perhaps 100,000 men in the field—British, French, Norwegians and Germans, some moving behind tanks and others attacking under cover of artillery and aerial bombardments.

WIDESPREAD FRONTS

Focal points of the fighting apparently were Verdalsora, 35 miles north of Trondheim, and Elverum, 60 miles north of Oslo near the Swedish frontier. Approximately 300 miles of rough terrain separates the two battle fronts.

The fighting around Verdalsora, according to Swedish sources, developed when Allied forces, driving south after effecting a landing at Namsos, attempted to break the German hold on the 100-mile railway line linking that port with Trondheim, the key to central Norway.

Verdalsora, doubly important because it lies on the railway line and a highway leading to the Swedish border 30 miles away, was reported in flames as the opposing forces fought for its possession.

The Norwegian legation here announced the swift moving Allied columns, supported by tanks, had attacked the Germans at Elverum after dislodging the invaders from Hamar, 20 miles to the west.

There were unconfirmed reports that British troops actually had occupied Elverum.

The progress of the fighting in this area, however, was confused by German claims that Nazi troops had reached Lillehammer, 25 miles north of Hamar. A Norwegian communiqué said the Germans had attacked Lillehammer repeatedly from the air last night, but did not say it had fallen.

Battle South Of Namsos Region

GRONG, Norway (CP-Havas)—An encounter may be expected today between Allied forces moving southward from Namsos on the railway via Grong, Steinkjer and Lemanger and German detachments advancing northward along the same railway from Trondheim, according to Norwegian sources.

Fighting was expected around Stiklestad, between Steinkjer and Lavangen.

German planes, apparently from a nearby airfield, tried to halt the Allied advance today by continuous bombing of this railway line, especially at Namsos, Grong, Steinkjer, Jordal and intermediate points. But when the three first named towns were bombed, the Allied troops had already left Namsos, notably, was bombed six hours too late. According to information gathered here, the Germans cannot put up much resistance on this front for several reasons:

1. Their troops concentrated at Trondheim and along the railway line to Sweden are few and opportunities to furnish them with supplies by air have been reduced since the airfields at Stavanger (in southwestern Norway) and Storlien (Swedish border town of the Trondheim rail line) have become unusable.
2. Reinforcement of the Trondheim forces by parachute troops is also impractical because the parachutists risk falling in forests where the ground is still covered with nine to 15 feet of snow.
3. The Germans cannot bring reinforcements by sea because Allied have also debarked south of Trondheim, so that the Germans in this region are encircled.

Ground defence forces were active, searchlights were ranging in wide arcs and anti-aircraft fire was intense, the report continued, "as the British aircraft, striking in rapid succession, came in over the target."

FROM 100 FEET

"One pilot, approaching from a height of only 100 feet, found that most of the searchlights could not be depressed at so low a level, and rising over the target, was able to place an accurate salvo of bombs on a road near the airdrome control tower."

By the light of the moon at Stavanger, Norway, nearly 50 enemy planes were seen scattered around the edge of the bombed airdrome by fliers raiding that point, this unofficial account said. About 15 of the planes, grouped close together, were chosen as a target by one flier who dropped at least 10 bombs. At least six of the German planes were destroyed and the others were believed to have been damaged badly.

The report said British raiders also machine-gunned planes, gun batteries and searchlight posts, to which the Germans replied with concentrated pom-pom and machine gun fire from batteries outside the airdrome.

Towers Warns Sacrifices Needed For War Victory

MONTREAL (CP)—Graham F. Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, told Canadians today their "sacrifices are still to come" and they must spend their money to buy shells, guns, ships and airplanes rather than for private purposes.

Addressing the Montreal Canadian Club, Mr. Towers said increased incomes from war activity "must be returned to the state in the form of taxation or subscription to war loans." In the case of many, a larger percentage of prewar income would have to be contributed or lent.

Canadians must provide Canadian dollars to the United Kingdom to enable Britain to buy supplies from Canada, and they must save enough to repatriate Canadian securities now owned in the United Kingdom.

He said this would be the reply to the claim of totalitarian states that democracies "can't take it in other words, pull in their belts."

"The people in this country are going to have to think twice before they make expenditures that are not essential," he said. "They are going to have to ask themselves, 'Can I do without this article or this service—this cruise or this imported luxury?'"

"We shall only be asked to give up some material things—not our liberty of thought and action."

"If this situation is well understood, I have no doubt in regard to our ability to solve the problem."

The real cost of the war, Mr. Towers said, must be met out of current production. "There are no countries from whom we can borrow. We have to stand on our own feet."

Cromwell to Leave

OTTAWA (CP)—James H. R. Cromwell, United States Minister to Canada, said today he would resign his position May 21, the date of the primary election in New Jersey in which he will seek nomination as Democratic candidate for the Senate.

"May 21 is the date I shall resign," the United States minister told the Canadian Press.

Nazi Manoeuvres

LONDON (CP)—A Norwegian white paper published here today on the invasion of Norway disclosed that German warships had entered vital fjords and engaged Norwegian defenders before Germany approached the government on a conciliation plan.

The 3,000-word account also said the German minister in Norway, Dr. Kurt Brauer, knew the German expedition had left some ports in Germany before the Allies mined Norwegian territorial waters April 8 and made no effort to represent the Nazi actions as a reprisal for the mine laying.

GERMANS ADMIT NARVIK ATTACKED

BERLIN (CP-Havas)—Following is today's communiqué from the German high command: "An April 21 Narvik was again the objective of an attack on the part of the enemy fleet, without the latter having made an attempt at debarking in the region held by German troops. "German formations quartered near Trondheim reached points important for the conduct of operations. "The booty captured by German troops in the Bergen region has been increased by a certain number of modern cannon and considerable stocks of materials. "Communications were established among the occupying German troops in action on the Oslo region, which progressed to the north and the northeast, meeting and repulsing Norwegian detachments. During this action they took Gjøvik and Lillehammer as well as the Lundehead heights, inflicting heavy loss on the enemy. "Rather important units of combat planes, effectively opposed attempts at debarking made by the British at Namsos and Adalsnes. They destroyed the places and railway stations occupied by the enemy troops. "A British destroyer was hit and two merchant ships were sunk. (London reported no such action.)

"Despite bad weather, German planes helped to break the resistance shown by the enemy north of Hamar, and destroyed railway communications in the enemy zone.

"In the Skagerrak and the Kattegat two enemy submarines were destroyed. (This was not reported in London.)

"British planes attacked the Aalborg airbase without, however, causing damage. Here three English planes were shot down. (The Air Ministry in London said one was missing.) Another British plane was shot down over the German coast.

Big Bomb Planes Found Inaccurate, Says A.P. Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Four foreign correspondents for the Associated Press, who were on the scene when war started in Europe and the Far East, today addressed the annual meeting of their news organization and told what they had seen and done.

They spoke after hearing Robert McLean, Philadelphia publisher and president of the Associated Press, pay tribute to correspondents in remote corners of the world, many of whom were exposed to physical danger.

The correspondents who told of their experiences were C. Yates McDaniel, who came from Hongkong; J. C. Stark, chief of the bureau in London; Wade Werner, chief of the Bureau in Copenhagen; and Lloyd Lehrbas, who was the A.P. correspondent in Warsaw when that city was captured by the German army.

McLean, president of the Bulletin Company, which publishes the Philadelphia Bulletin, introduced Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, whom he described as "the commanding general of these forces."

Werner was described by Cooper as a "chief without a bureau, since the Germans have told us we cannot have any staff in German-occupied territory except at Berlin."

McLean predicted that "if war in the air comes to Europe in the concentrated form we experienced in Finland, and lasts as much as two years, a great hatred will sweep the civilian population of Europe, and it will not be hatred of the enemy. 'It will be hatred of the machinery of the war.'"

Werner blamed the civilian death toll in air raids in Finland not to deliberate intent of the Russians, but on the fact that bombing planes have got so large as no longer to be very accurate.

"Bombers seldom hit their target until they have hit everything else in the neighborhood," he said. "Censored dispatches from Finland naturally were top heavy with damage to schools and hospitals, with casualties among civilians rather than among soldiers."

"The truth is, I fear, that the average bombing plane is a blunderbuss, and the bigger the plane, the greater the margin of error."

"The war we are now watching from a great distance is a very big war. So big that we have scarcely begun to realize its scope or even dimly dream its colossal ultimate consequences."

Stark told of the difficulties with censorship.

McDaniel said that while hostilities in Europe had taken the news spotlight from the eastern war in the Far East, "hasn't really begun yet."

"The opposing leaders and their main forces have for some time kept well away from each other, or have gone far into remote regions with unspellable and unpronounceable names," he said.

"But that does not mean that nothing is happening out there. Much less does it mean that bigger stories are not going to break in the future."

German Bombers Kill U.S. Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States State Department received word today that Captain Robert M. Losey, assistant military attaché at Stockholm, Sweden, was killed in a German bombing raid at Dombas, Norway, yesterday.

He was the first United States citizen slain on land since the war started. He was standing upright in a tunnel during the bombing and was the only one killed.

The State Department said Capt. Losey had gone from Stockholm into Norway to assist in removing Americans from the war zone.

Frederick A. Sterling, U.S. minister to Sweden, cabled the State Department that the body "will be sent tomorrow (Monday) via Roros to Fjellnas, where instructions from legation are awaited."

The State Department has instructed its legation at Stockholm to obtain all possible information on the circumstances of the death.

Capt. Losey went to Norway Saturday to make contact with a party of Americans being moved out under the escort of Lieut.-Commander Hagen. The group, composed largely of the families of the American legation and consulate at Oslo, crossed the frontier into Sweden under Hagen's escort yesterday.

Losey, 31, a native of Iowa, reported for duty to Sterling at Stockholm only a few days ago. He had previously been in Finland as an observer during the Russo-Finnish war.

Big Storms Lash Alberta And New England

EDMONTON (CP)—Continued rainfall in northern and central Alberta today was expected to aggravate flood conditions at Edmonton and Whitecourt, but the flood threat to Drumheller in east central Alberta was believed over as the level of the Michichi Creek dropped 18 inches.

Week-end snow, sleet and rain caused floods in the Edmonton, Whitecourt and Drumheller areas, broke light and power lines in the Calgary area, darkening 12 towns and blocked all but main highways.

No lives were lost though at least 160 persons were made homeless due to floods that came just five days after approximately 1,000 citizens of Drumheller Valley had evacuated their homes when a sudden spring thaw flooded the Red Deer River and its tributaries.

From Whitecourt, 135 miles northwest of Edmonton, came thrilling stories of rescues from rooftops after the Athabasca River, jammed with ice, flooded the low farmlands three miles east of the town. More than 20 townsmen, in horse-drawn vehicles or in boats, rescued 40 persons.

Fred Karlzen reached his home just in time to carry his wife and one-day-old baby upstairs. Water leaked at the mattress on which Mrs. Karlzen was lying.

HALL REFUGE

About 15 persons slept in the Alberta community hall in north Edmonton after flood water from Turnip Lake, four miles northwest of the city, had inundated an area of about a square mile. Michichi Creek continued to rise today as 100 persons in north Drumheller evacuated their homes.

Sleet broke power lines and broke down at least 150 telegraph poles of the Canadian National Telegraph Company, near Calgary. More than 12 towns within a radius of 70 miles were without electricity last night.

Roads in the Calgary area were impassable and many automobiles were stalled on trails leading to the city. The Banff Trail was covered with four-foot drifts.

STORM IN NEW ENGLAND

BOSTON (AP)—Immense tides inundated eastern New England coastal communities today, causing thousands of dollars' damage to homes and shore roads in the wake of a week-end northeasterly gale which left a snow blanket over much of the area and cut off all communication with the northeastern section of Maine.

Fears the storm would swell rivers in the six states to menacing levels abated as the prospect of continuing cold weather and snow flurries prompted weather bureau experts to forecast "no imminent flood danger."

At the height of the storm the nude body of a five-month-old child was washed ashore at Nantasket Beach on the south shore. Police began an investigation.

SNOW IN MARITIMES

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—A spring snowstorm, starting Sunday morning, continued to blow down over the greater part of New Brunswick today. Transportation was badly handicapped by drifts in some sections and deep slush in others.

Ten inches of snow had fallen in Saint John up to noon. Moncton and Sackville reported about a foot of snow each.

A victim of the gale, the schooner Vilda A. was a total loss on rocks near Dipper Harbor. The vessel, carrying coal from Parrsboro, N.S., to Black's Harbor, N.B., came to grief early yesterday. Her crew of three reached shore.

Pacifists Charged

LONDON (CP)—Five persons who were arrested Sunday for distributing pacifist literature appeared in police court today.

structed its legation at Stockholm to obtain all possible information on the circumstances of the death.

Capt. Losey went to Norway Saturday to make contact with a party of Americans being moved out under the escort of Lieut.-Commander Hagen. The group, composed largely of the families of the American legation and consulate at Oslo, crossed the frontier into Sweden under Hagen's escort yesterday.

Far East Events May Force U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rear Admiral Joseph Taussig, former United States assistant chief of naval operations, said today the trend of developments in the Far East might easily force the United States into war against Japan.

Asserting he was expressing only his own viewpoint, Taussig told the Senate naval committee that "we would be warranted in using economic and financial means and, if necessary, using force, to preserve the integrity of China."

Japan's promises in international relations "are worthless," the officer declared, adding that "Japan is seeking to impose her culture on the world by force."

He said that even if she conquered China, Japan would still lack such essential raw materials as oil, rubber and tin, and that she thus might seek to expand "in the Netherlands Indies and the Philippines."

Testifying on the naval bill, "The Far Eastern situation definitely threatens our national interest. We need a stable, independent China. 'I don't see how we can escape being forced into an eventual war by the present trend of developments in the Far East.'"

But, Taussig asserted, "We should not be placed in the position of having to carry on a single-handed war against Japan." He suggested Great Britain, France and the Netherlands should give assistance. He added:

"It should be a naval war. We can't invade Japan and Japan can't invade the United States. But Japan would try to invade the Philippines."

Taussig suggested construction of an "impregnable" naval base in the Philippines and continued building of battleships. He said that agreements might be made with the British, French and Dutch by which American naval vessels could use their bases in the Pacific.

Badge for Air Gunners

OTTAWA (CP)—Air gunners of the Royal Canadian Air Force will be distinguished by a cloth badge on the breast of the tunic, a single wing with the letters "AG" surrounded by a laurel wreath.

Approval of the new badge, which will replace the old winged bullet emblem, was announced at R.C.A.F. headquarters today. The air gunner badge is similar to that in use by Royal Air Force gunners. The metal winged bullet badge may be continued to be worn by present holders, it was pointed out.

Liquor Aid Held Vital In Financing War

By NORMAN MACLEOD
OTTAWA—The federal government is at one with Premier Hepburn in a resolve to see that the war is not used as an excuse for reviving national prohibition.

The Ontario Premier's attitude is influenced by such provincial factors as the $10,000,000-odd that his treasury derives annually from the controlled sale of liquor—and the law enforcement costs and undesirable social conditions to which prohibition gives rise. The federal government's stand is based on national grounds.

As the authorities here see the picture, Canada's legal alcoholic beverage industry is too important a factor on the nation's economic war front to be sacrificed. It is realized that it is playing a major role—greater than that of any single industry—in bringing into the Dominion the United States dollars vitally needed for the successful maintenance of the war effort of the Allied powers.

The country's alcoholic beverage industry is recognized as rendering this service in two ways:

1. Indirectly, through the part that controlled sale of alcoholic beverage plays in making possible the immensely valuable tourist traffic the Dominion is enjoying—a traffic destined to assume huge proportions with the closing of Europe as a playground for Americans.

2. Directly, by the sale of its products abroad, a commerce which returns a monthly supply of United States exchange, so necessary for the purchase of armaments, airplanes and other materials for the war effort of the Allied powers.

SECOND ONLY TO NEWSPRINT

The direct service performed by the alcoholic beverage industry in making foreign exchange available to the government as a result of its sales to other countries, principally the United States, has been impressive since the war opened. In the period of six months that had elapsed to the end of February, exports of alcoholic beverages had yielded a total of $5,300,000 in foreign funds to the Federal authorities. That is a record that only one other manufactured commodity—newsprint—has exceeded.

The indirect contribution of the alcoholic beverage industry, through the tourist trade is recognized by federal officials, however, as its most important aid. With Europe cut off by the war as a traveling ground for pleasure-minded citizens of the United States, Canada's tourist industry is heading towards the greatest boom in its entire history. Already visitors are pouring tourist dollars into Canada at a rate in excess of $20,000,000 per month—by far the greatest single source of United States exchange that the government has.

The experience of the provinces with prohibition in the experiment that grew out of the last war, demonstrated its paralyzing effect on the tourist in-

Hungary Totters

Searchlights swept the skies and A.R.P. squads patrolled the streets of Budapest at the week-end as Hungary became a focal point in the latest war of nerves. German divisions were poised on the Hungarian frontier while others manoeuvred near Yugoslavia, in what was construed as an effort to end Italy's neutrality and bring her into the war. Rumors of a "German invasion" drove British and French residents out of Budapest, even newspaper correspondents leaving for Belgrade. British legion officials kept a truck waiting to rush their documents out of the country.

With United States dollars so badly needed to win the war, the federal authorities are not going to take any action that will cut off this important source of exchange.

R. D. Craig Dies

OTTAWA (CP)—Roland D. Craig, 60, chief of the forest economics division of the Dominion forest service, died suddenly in hospital here Saturday night.

A graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, he spent some time in the United States forest service and was manager of Vancouver timber companies before coming here. He was co-author with Dr. H. N. Whitford of "Forests of British Columbia."

Surviving him besides the widow are two sons, James of Toronto and Donald of Vancouver, and two daughters.

Noxious weeds have been spreading alarmingly, government plant scientists say; the result of depression conditions on farms and the unusual series of dry years since 1930.

Lloyd George Still Ready to Serve

CARNAVON, Wales (CP)—David Lloyd George, prime minister during the first Great War, has given what is regarded as an indication he is ready to accept some government office if it should be offered him.

Speaking in Welsh at the end of an English address here at a celebration of his 50th anniversary as member of parliament for Carnarvon, the 77-year-old Liberal said:

"After being in charge of the ship of state during one of the most stormy periods in history, I have now returned to the tranquility of Carnarvon harbor to be welcomed by thousands of my fellow countrymen, who appear to be half suggesting that I put back to sea once again."

"All I have to say is that if there is any service, be it great or small, which I can give to help the nation out of its tribulation and to lead the world again into the path of peace, justice and freedom, I shall do so."

11 NAZI PLANES BAGGED BY ALLIES

PARIS (AP)—Aerial activity by both sides marked the war on the western front today with French and British airmen and anti-aircraft gunners chalking up a total of 11 German planes shot down during the week-end.

Unverified reports indicated three additional planes may have been brought down.

German pilots flew over northern, eastern and southwestern France as well as the Paris area, military headquarters said, and Allied fliers carried out missions over Germany.

Artillery thundred in the Blies River region, while sporadic case-mate fire disturbed the Rhine district. Patrols on both sides carried out their customary forays.

NEW WORKS SHELLED

LUXEMBOURG (CP-Havas)—French artillery last night subjected recently constructed German fortifications in the region of Tetingen to a severe artillery bombardment. Some 60 shells of large calibre were hurled into

and TRUCK OPERATORS HAVE CONFIDENCE in FORD TRUCKS

because - 1. FORD TRUCKS led every other truck in Canadian sales in 21 of the last 25 years.

2. Led in every one of past 5 years.

3. Are leading again in 1940.

Why are Ford Trucks repeated "winners"? BECAUSE THEY DO MORE WORK IN LESS TIME AT LOWER COST.

These facts influence truckers to buy Fords.

(Fact No. 1) Ford power and economy can't be equalled for all round trucking. Ford Trucks haul heavy loads faster and more economically because their engines develop high torque over a wide range of engine speeds—speeds at which trucks operate most of the time—speeds at which greater engine economy is obtained.

(Fact No. 2) Feature for feature—Ford Trucks challenge comparison with any truck at any price! Examples: Valve grinding is not needed up to 40 or 50 thousand miles, because tungsten steel inserts are used on intake and exhaust valves. Freedom from repairs, long life and reliability are assured by the full-floating rear axle with straddle-mounted pinion. No other trucks give the time and money saving benefits of Ford Engine and Parts Exchange Plans.

There's a Ford unit for your work! Sixty-four body and chassis types with frames properly designed for each unit. Ask the Ford-Mercury-Zephyr Dealer to arrange an on-the-job test.

FORD TRUCKS ARE MADE IN CANADA
88,000 Canadian workers and dependants benefit because Ford trucks are made in this country. When you buy a Ford Truck, more of your money stays in Canada.

Italy Still Ambiguous

TWO SIGNIFICANT ASPECTS OF THE developments in Europe over the week-end have been yesterday's colorless statement from Premier Mussolini and the notable cessation of the ultra pro-German tone of the Italian press. This should not be taken as an indication of the birth of a new policy as far as non-participation or participation in the war is concerned. But it does suggest that the naval and military situation in and around Norway has begun to impress the Fascist chief and his more intimate adherents.

Il Duce's Italy's watchwords must be "Labor and Arms." Just what this means he did not tell the great audience which listened to his shortest speech on record—two sentences. In Il Telegrafo—Foreign Minister Ciano's newspaper—Giovanni Ansaldo wrote editorially that "the supreme interests of Italian workers rest with Italy's might," that "only if Italy is strong, very strong, militarily, will she be able to be in one way or another among the conquerors." Ansaldo was careful to add, moreover, that those who lost the war would be "reduced to the state of Chinese coolies."

This editorial outburst would seem to suggest that it is Premier Mussolini's plan to wait as long as possible to see which way the tide of battle turns before committing his country to any definite action. It is evident, at least on his public showing yesterday, that he is between the devil and the deep blue sea. Signor Ansaldo obviously tried to explain Il Duce's ambiguous words. But he made a poor job of it. Yet it was anything but an attack on the Allies, and in this regard it differed from the comments of practically the whole Italian press recently, most of which had seemed designed to prepare the way to implement the promise and threat of the Rome-Berlin axis.

Has it dawned on Mussolini at long last that if Hitler and his system are defeated, as they must be, Italy's future will depend upon the quality of her neutrality or the nature of her active participation in the war? On the other hand, if she joins Germany, which is scarcely conceivable, she must make up her mind to a very unpromising future—not necessarily a condition so graphically described by Signor Ansaldo. In the unthinkable event of a Hitlerian success, however, the position of Mussolini and his country "among the conquerors" would certainly not be an enviable one. A Nazi triumph would mean a Germanic hegemony of Europe; under the subsequent dispensation such purpose as Italy may have served would promptly be ignored by the Nazi chief who, quite probably, would cite Mussolini's hesitancy to cast his lot with Germany as sufficient reason for scant consideration at the distribution of the spoils.

Two questions again obtrude: 1. Is Signor Mussolini convinced that the Allies intend to smash Hitlerism and all it connotes? 2. If so, is it reasonable to suppose that when there is more visible prospect of a victory for the democracies than there may be at this juncture, he will follow precedent and employ his controlled press to pave the way either for a policy of more or less benevolent neutrality, or for entrance into the conflict under Allied auspices? He must know the answer to No. 1. If No. 2 can be replied to affirmatively, the history of Italy's course in 1915 will be repeated, passively or actively.

In the meantime, the progress of the campaign in Norway is not pleasant for Hitler to contemplate. His venture depended for its success wholly upon his ability to continue to supplement his initial invading force with a stream of reinforcements and all the paraphernalia a large modern army requires. He has not been permitted to carry out this elementary and necessary provision; for neither his navy nor his air force has succeeded in interfering in the least with the constant stream of Allied troops and equipment across the North Sea.

Our New Highways

WHEN THE BIG BEND HIGHWAY IS opened on June 28, and the Banff-Jasper Highway prepares for business on July 1, British Columbia's tourist industry will enter a new and important stage which should promise considerable expansion for one of the province's most lucrative activities. For many years, of course, the attractions of our magnificent mountain playgrounds have been attractively publicized in many parts of the world by the advertising departments of the two transcontinental railway systems—more recently, too, by the National Parks Bureau and the Canadian Travel branch of the public service—but until now some of the most entrancing areas have not been accessible to the motorist. With the opening of the two highways to which we have referred the key to a new wonderland will be available to all.

It should be noted that the Banff-Jasper Highway, connecting Canada's two largest national parks, also supplies a motor road to the very foot of the great Columbia ice fields. This body of ice, 150 miles in extent, might well be described as the geographical nerve centre of the continent. From its icy caverns flow headwaters of rivers emptying into three of the oceans that wash the shores of North America. Long a somewhat mystical region attainable only by pack-train and saddle-back, it will now be at the command of the motorist who is coming to western Canada in increasingly larger numbers from year to year. The effect on tourist travel from the western states of the neighboring republic—which flows both ways through the older sections of British Columbia—should be immediately apparent. Incidentally, when he was in Victoria recently, Mr. Robert J. C. Stead, well-known Canadian author and able Superintendent of Publicity for the National Parks Bureau, pointed out that these roads run both ways. This means that they will provide a mode of access for a much greater flood of travel from the prairie provinces, and eventually, with the completion of the Trans-Canada Highway, from eastern Canada and the middle and eastern states of the country on the south. The present exchange situation, moreover, likewise will suggest to holiday-making Canadians that they will now have an added inducement to travel in their own country. These two highways will likewise serve the cause of Canadian solidarity and understanding, in addition to furnishing new income for British Columbia at a time when the provincial exchequer most urgently needs it.

50 Years' Fine Service

ALBERT TOLLER GOWARD'S business career in this community proves the aptness of the adage that there is always room at the top. It may not be that the kernel of this philosophy bulked very largely in this young man's mental survey as he left his native Wales to try his fortune in this new land of adventure and promise. But he did as many others did who came to Canada in the waning years of the last century: He bowed to the dictum that here there was room, room in many senses of the term, and that rewards awaited those who had courage, initiative, intelligence and adaptability. He began at the beginning—this young man of 18 summers. And from that modest start in 1890 he persevered until he had reached the highest rung on the ladder of success.

It was a happy moment, then, when Mr. Goward's fellow employees presented him with a tangible reminder of the passage of the years last Friday night—years which have been marked by the most pleasant associations with a loyal staff, years which have not dimmed the enthusiasm with which he entered the service that has helped to shape a useful life. And it is no secret that Mr. Goward's popularity with those who are privileged to know him, as friends and acquaintances or in a business capacity, has its roots in his sterling integrity in all matters. Added to this, moreover, are an engaging personality and a buoyant optimism which make it especially pleasant for us to add our congratulations to the many good wishes that have marked the 50th anniversary of his association with the British Columbia Electric Railway Company.

Answering Radicalism

FIFTY THOUSAND EMPLOYEES OF the International Harvester Company in Canada and the United States will share in 25 per cent of all profits after common stockholders have been paid $3 a share. At present prices, this means about a 5 per cent return for those who have invested money with the company. Those who have invested their time and abilities will get their regular pay, plus 25 per cent of profits above the $3 a share point. Had the plan been in effect in 1936 and 1937, some $7,000,000 would have been added to the employees' remuneration. That means $70 a year for each employee—not to be sneezed at. Thus, on this continent, the share and the stake of working people, their security and welfare, are being advanced little by little. It is the best answer to blueprint radicalism.

To Scandinavia, Hitler offered a pipe of peace, and as usual with his pipes, it turned out to be made of lead.

Sunspots must affect humans. That seems to be the only rational explanation for Hitler's rash drive on Norway.

Sherman, of course, was right about war. King Haakon might now also have a word to say about neutrality.

For "England and St. George"

(Tomorrow, April 23, is St. George's Day) Once more unto the breach, dear friends, once more; Or close the wall up with our English dead. In peace there's nothing so becomes a man As modest stillness and humility: But when the blast of war blows in our ears, Then imitate the action of the tiger; Stiffen the sinews, summon up the blood, Be copy now to men of grosser blood, And teach them how to war. And you, good yeomen, Whose limbs were made in England, show us here

The mettle of your pasture; let us swear That you are worth your breeding; which I doubt not; For there is none of you so mean and base, That hath not noble lustre in your eyes. I see you stand like greyhounds in the slips, Straining upon the start. The game's afoot: Follow your spirit, and upon this charge Cry "God for Harry, England and Saint George!" —Shakespeare's King Henry V, Act 3.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord; neither he that is rent greater than he that sent him.—John 13:16.

Command thy servant advisedly with few plain words, fully, freely and positively, with a grave countenance and settled carriage. These will procure obedience, gain respect and maintain authority.—Fuller.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

BAD NEWS

THE EVIDENCE OF A SWING away from the Democrats to the Republicans south of the border continues to pile up. By their curiously complicated system of primary voting, the Americans can judge fairly well in advance what is going to happen in a national election in the autumn and there seems to be no doubt now that the Democratic regime is fighting for its life. This is bad news up here.

Not that Canadians have an ideological interest in the two parties of their neighbors; not, indeed, that the two parties have any serious ideological difference between themselves, any more than you can tell an average Canadian Liberal from an average Conservative, except by the lean look of the latter. No, the American election has only a hard-bolled practical interest to us as buyers from and sellers to the United States.

TREATY

WHY WE ARE CONCERNED with the label of the party now in preliminary process of election was indicated in the U.S. Senate a few days ago. There, almost forgotten in the news of the Norwegian war, the Democrats managed to extend for another three years the reciprocal trade treaty programme. This means that for three more years the President can negotiate tariff agreements with foreign countries, within certain limits, without securing the approval of Congress.

This trade treaty program was the first sign since the last war that the American people at last were getting some economic sense. It was the first attempt to open up world trade, for, under the law as it stands, any lower duties granted to a certain nation to the United States automatically apply to other nations. Thus the scheme contemplates a general lowering of tariffs. It hasn't done much yet, but at least it is a candle of light burning in a naughty world.

The thing we have to remember as we regard the primary elections now underway down there is that the Republicans solidly opposed the trade treaty policy and, against them, it only got by the Senate with four votes to spare. Even some of the Democrats were against it. If the Republicans win in the fall we can kiss the whole scheme goodbye.

LIP SERVICE

THE REPUBLICANS pay lip service to foreign trade, say they would promote trade as enthusiastically as the Democrats, but only with the consent of Congress, not by deals made through the Presidency. A pious hope. In actual effect, once a tariff gets into Congress it automatically goes up as every local shoe factory and button maker struggles for more protection. A Republican victory in the autumn means a return to the days of Fordney-McCumber and Smoot-Hawley, which completely disorganized Canada's trade, compelled us to adopt the Empire preferences and started the mad race toward self-containment throughout the world, with results now apparent in the Scandinavian Peninsula.

A good deal of nonsense is talked about the American market for Canadian goods. You would think, to listen to some people, that the Americans had stopped buying from us altogether, that all our trade had been switched to the British Empire. On the contrary, the United States is still our best customer. From our province it buys almost as much as Britain buys despite the Empire treaties.

DEFICIT

IT IS TRUE, OF COURSE, that we buy far more from the Americans than we sell, and, including our payment of interest on loans held by them, we run a net deficit of about $185,000,000 a year in this trade. It remains, however, the largest single item of international trade in the world. Any serious reduction in our sales to the Americans would be very serious here, as we have found under Republican administrations before. And there is nothing in the speeches of leading Republicans, if you have the energy to read them, to suggest that they have changed their minds about high tariffs.

A lot of people who haven't read these speeches assume glibly that the American people have turned against the New Deal. Perhaps they have turned against the label of it and against some of its actual policies, but don't let that fool you. Most of the New Deal is here to stay. Read the Republican speeches, observe the Republican votes in Congress and you will see that the Republicans do not dare to scrap most of the Rooseveltian policies.

ABSURDITY

IN FACT, THE ABSURDITY of the Republican position is that if high Republican tariffs are to be imposed, there will be all the more need for New Deal controls of everything, subsidies to farmers and what-not to balance up for the loss of international trade. Again, don't let us fool ourselves. Even the Democrats, if re-elected, will not reduce the tariff much. All we can hope for is something a little better, a slight easing of present restrictions on trade. Anybody who fancies that the Americans are suddenly going to become enlightened before or after the election and take down their tariffs and disrupt their protected industries, has never seen Congress at work. In fact, the best you can say of it is that the Republicans would be tougher and if they are winning the election that is more important to us than anything now occurring in Canadian politics.

"A well-governed mind learns in time to find pleasure in nothing but the true and the just."—Amiel.

Social Earthquake

From New English Weekly (London)

LARGE AND unexpected developments there will be in the developments of power politics, but we are better employed than in trying to foresee them. We prefer to observe and elucidate, as we may, the changes now taking place in human life, which most people are still trying to grasp with out-of-date conceptions.

This upheaval is not like the crisis that followed on the French Revolution, for instance, which marked the transition from agrarian-feudal power to the new powers of industry and commerce. Nor is it like the catastrophe of 1914, that collision between the swelling financial imperialism and the nationalisms that were arising in emulation of them.

The social earthquakes in which so many of us are now likely to perish are caused by quite another shifting in the foundation of our social structures—the reaching of the limits of profit-making by technological extensions and improvements. This is the point at which the individual profit motive fails, the "end of economic man," the breakdown, therefore, of financial rule.

The effective political power of the modern world, in every country, is passing from the weakening grasp of the monopolists of producer-credit; and into the hands of the organizers of military might.

THE RATIONALE OF RUTHLESSNESS

THIS IS A CHANGE particularly difficult for western peoples to accept with resignation; indeed in its present form it is unacceptable. When, for example, the BBC announced the bombing and shooting of unarmed fishing crews by some German aviators, we felt the announcer was right to describe such a victorious exploit with contempt, as demanding more from the airman's conscience than their courage.

When The Times stigmatized the same actions as "the blind and vindictive barbarism of the savage, determined, like a mad dog to rend whatever is within his reach," we could not but relish the retaliatory verbiage. But the German government, persuaded that "total warfare" has become a condition of the survival of modern states, regard our resentment as mere peevishness or propaganda. In their view, we ought not to leave boats and men about where we cannot protect them from attack, since all workers are now combatants. The modern dictators elevate ruthlessness into a virtue; in Hitler's writings and speeches especially it is interesting to see how frequently the word is used, invariably in approbation.

The devil that has now broken loose throughout the world is the crass idea that "force decides," and is a necessity of which a

WHY THEY VOTED THAT WAY

From Winnipeg Free Press

Various newspaper discuss gravely the significance of the slight majority given to opposition candidates in the soldiers' voting.

There might be various plausible explanations, but the likeliest is that the soldiers in Great Britain, where it is understood most of the majority came from, did not have a chance to hear Dr. Manion and his associates present their case.

This guess takes on the garb of reality when it is observed that the whole majority and more was cast by troops from Ontario. Everybody knows that the people of Ontario, if they are left alone, will vote by a majority for the Conservative Party. It is only when they are bombarded by speeches from the Manions and the Drews that they flock to the polls and vote Liberal. Free from these influences, the lads overseas voted in the way their fathers used to vote in pre-Manion and pre-Drew days.

Assure your future
now with money
you will never miss

To enjoy life without work at 60 or 65 is the right of every woman who through the years has earned her living. Assure yourself of the means to secure it now.

Through Imperial Life you can make sure of financial independence in the time to come—long years of comfort and happiness that you can provide for now with deposits you will never miss. It's so simple—so easy.

IN a small public school in rural Ontario there is a school teacher who has taken a practical view of life. Several years ago Miss F— invested in an Imperial Life plan so flexible in its terms that it provides for most of life's contingencies.

If she dies the plan pays either cash or an income to her father and mother. If she is ill for a long time, the plan carries on without any further investment on her part. If she marries it provides a nest-egg for herself, or the plan can be transferred to the life of her husband.

But, if she never marries, the plan will pay her $50 a month income commencing when she reaches age 60 and continuing as long as she lives. Practical? Yes! And so economical that teachers of even small outlying schools such as the one in which Miss F— is teaching find it well within their means.

Have done with worry about the future. Look forward to a full, care-free life. See an Imperial Life representative today.

Battle Fleets Juggle For Positions

Italy's fleet is manoeuvring around the Dodecanese Islands, while military missions from Berlin and Rome exchange visits. Russia's outdated battleships are in the Black Sea; Turkey's are in the Sea of Marmora. Britain has strong bases at Malta, just south of Italy, and at Alexandria, next door to the Suez Canal. ## 25 Years Ago

April 22, 1915

LONDON—Hill No. 60, dominating an area to the southeast of Ypres, continues to be the storm centre of the western front, with the British holding the ground taken by the assault last Saturday. Numerous counter-attacks have been repulsed by the victorious British forces.

LONDON—Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, speaking in the House of Commons, reiterated the need for a greater supply of munitions, declaring that during the battle of Neuve Chapelle more ammunition was used than in the whole of the South African war, which lasted nearly three years.

OTTAWA—The casualty list issued today states that Major Lorne Ross, of Victoria, who was with the Sixteenth Battalion at the front, has been wounded in the right arm and is now in hospital in London.

Several of the Presbytery of Victoria attended the induction services held on Tuesday at Lady Smith, when Rev. Thomas Oswald was inducted into the charge of the First Presbyterian Church of Ladysmith.

Workers Get Bigger Rations in France

By GLADYS M. ARNOLD
PARIS (CP) — Mid-April and spring in wartime. Everyone in France, be he or she citizen, refugee or tourist, is being provided with a food ration card.

The "Official," as the governmental weekly news bulletin is known, has confirmed it with five pages devoted to regulations governing the different categories of cards.

If in the past individuals in Paris felt twinges of embarrassment at the thought of being called a "worker" today everybody is eager to get into that privileged class.

After a certain number of special categories, notably those of children from three to 12 and people on medically prescribed diets, the rest of the population is divided into two classes — "workers" and "adults."

"HEAVY" WORKERS

There have been many chuckles in Paris over the list of people to be found under the "worker" heading in the Official, and thus entitled to more substantial food rations. Flea trainers, sword swallowers and bearded ladies are solemnly noted as heavy workers. Super-rations are accorded to industrial workers, road builders, bricklayers, carpenters and farm laborers, of course. The special favor is extended to rat-catchers, breeders of leeches, and employees of funicular railways.

Show people and sportsmen are generally entitled to the special card — dancers, clowns, boxers, artists of rinks and sports fields, circus riders, trapeze artists, wrestlers are among them.

The "forts des halles" are particularly mentioned. These are the strong men of the city market who sling half an ox jauntily on one shoulder and stride off with it, or toss a 100-pound bag of onions into a cart with but a flip of the wrist. But house painters, chimney sweeps, boiler-makers, cartwrights and pig-stickers are shown also to be in need of extra quantities of food. Lace makers, hat makers, dress-makers are excluded from the favored and have to be content with the regime of ordinary mortals like bankers, financiers, business directors, university professors, politicians and journalists, who are not supposed to use up any energy because their work is lighter or intellectual. These are relegated to category "a" or "adult" and consequently to smaller rations.

The Oaklands P.T.A. study group will meet at the home of Mrs. James Ferguson, 2805 Cook Street, tomorrow afternoon, at 2.30.

Eastern Star Honor Grand Officers

Present Silver Tray
To Mrs. C. Irwin;
Luncheon Today

Nearly 50 guests attended the delightfully arranged luncheon arranged by the Past Matrons and Past Patrons Association in honor of the worthy grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Catherine Irwin, North Vancouver, and the worthy grand patron, Mr. J. V. Beldam, New Westminster, and other grand officers, and held in the private dining-room at Spencer's today.

The tables were centred with silver baskets of bluebells, with little nut baskets in blue cellophane as favors, while the dainty place cards were in the form of an old-fashioned lady on a white card, with the gold star emblem of the order.

Miss Alice Findler, president of the association, presided and welcomed the guests.

PRESENTATION MADE

On Saturday afternoon the visiting grand officers were honored guests at a tea held in the chintz lounge of the Empress Hotel. Receiving the guests were the worthy matrons of the five chapters in Victoria and Saanich: Miss Harriett Edwards of Queen City Chapter, No. 5; Mrs. Myrtle Carmichael, Victoria Chapter, No. 17; Mrs. Elizabeth McIntyre, Ruth Chapter, No. 22; Mrs. Daisy Sampson, Esquimalt Chapter, No. 41, and Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, Oak Bay Chapter, No. 42.

Spring flowers centred the tea tables, which were presided over by the association matrons with the conductresses and associate conductresses assisting in serving.

Mrs. Irwin was presented with a lovely silver tray inscribed with the names of the five chapters, the presentation being made by Mrs. George Miles, grand chaplain. Mrs. Irwin thanked the chapters for the lovely gift and for the kindness and hospitality shown her during her visits up and down the island.

She will conclude her official visits during the week, when she visits Victoria Chapter today, Queen City on Wednesday and Esquimalt on Friday.

Horsfall to Give Old Friend's Opera

The premiere production here of a British opera entitled "The Stranger," by the eminent English composer, Joseph Holbrooke, will be heard when the Victoria Grand Opera Association, under the direction of Basil Horsfall, presents this delightful two-act light opera at the clubrooms, 1753 Rockland Avenue, on Friday and Saturday, April 26 and 27.

"The Stranger" was originally produced at His Majesty's Theatre in London in 1910 and received high praise from press and public. Today Joseph Holbrooke is recognized as one of the most outstanding British composers. Ernest Newman, dean of music critics, writing of Holbrooke's works, says: "Holbrooke can write a big, heart-felt melody that searches us to the bone — he will have a charming life among a thousand shipwrecks. If the composer does not leave his mark upon the history of modern music, there is no other English musician who will."

Holbrooke's operas have not only been heard in England, but have also had the distinction of being performed in most of the European capitals. His symphonies, orchestral poems, concertos and ballets have been presented under the direction of such famous conductors as Nikisch, Beecham, Richter, Bantock, Albert Coates, Henry J. Wood, Hamilton Harty, Braga, Sir Dan Godfrey, Felix Weingartner and Elgine Goossens.

Joseph Holbrooke and Basil Horsfall have been friends for years and when Holbrooke heard of the work the Victoria Grand Opera Association is doing, he sent over the score of "The Stranger" and expressed a wish that he would like this enthusiastic organization to produce the opera.

The cast for the forthcoming performance will include Thelma Johns, David Oldham, Vivian McCahill and George Farmer. "The Stranger" is a charming story of the loves and sorrows of Pierrot and Pierrette.

The introduction at this time of an opera by an English composer should be of exceptional interest to music lovers.

Weddings

GILBERT-DAY

With spring flowers banked around the chancel and posies of narcissi tied with white bows marking the guest pews, Christ Church Cathedral was the scene on Saturday evening of the pretty wedding of Florence Evelyn, only daughter of Mrs. E. G. Day, to George Kitchener Gilbert, eldest son of Mrs. G. Gilbert, Cecil Hotel, Victoria.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. W. H. Beach, and wore a pretty jacket frock of white net cut on princess lines, the hem of the frock and the jacket being applied with lace, fell from a coronet of orange blossoms to form a train, and she carried a bouquet of pale pink roses and sweet peas. Her only ornament was a gold cross, the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Waveney Bishop and Miss Marla Beach were the bridesmaids, both wearing princess frocks of net with lace jackets, the former in orchid and the latter in powder blue. They wore doll hats of pink flowers and net to match their frocks, and carried muffs of matching net trimmed with a tiny Colonial bouquet of pastel flowers. Mr. William Holmes, cousin of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Jack Vaio, Ben Duckworth and Walter Parker.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Beach, the bride and groom standing beneath an arch of flowers and large white bell before a window, in a setting of spring flowers. Mrs. Day, in a gown of black Ottoman silk with touches of blue, and a black hat trimmed with blue flowers, was assisted in welcoming the guests by the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. John Holmes, in a heavenly blue ensemble of satin-back crepe with matching blue hat trimmed with rose flowers, both wearing corsage bouquets of carnations and sweet peas.

Supper was served from a table covered with a lace cloth, centred with the three-tiered, wedding cake, and decorated with silver vases of roses.

After a honeymoon on the island, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert will reside at 1544 Bank Street. For traveling the bride chose a dusky rose dress, worn with a grey coat, navy blue accessories and a corsage bouquet of roses. Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Pilling, Mrs. H. P. Dumbrell and Mrs. Eda Dumbrell, Vancouver, and Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, New Westminster, were guests at the wedding.

At the Victoria West United Church manse on Saturday evening at 8, Rev. C. D. Clarke united in marriage Evelyn May, youngest daughter of Mrs. Lillian Slack, 121 Michigan Street, and Mr. Trevor Lewis, son of Mrs. M. A. Lewis, 1324 Denman Street.

The bride was given in marriage by her godfather, Mr. Thomas Skinner, and wore a jacket frock of pastel-blue crepe, with hat to match and white accessories, and a corsage bouquet of Tallman roses and sweet peas.

Lieut. Col. J. H. M. Greenly, C.B.E., who has been a guest at Government House for the last week, will leave tonight for the mainland en route east. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber, who are fulfilling a series of engagements in Vancouver, will return to Government House on Thursday morning.

Sixteen tables of bridge were in play at the bridge tea held Saturday afternoon in the dining-room of David Spencer Limited by the Comitas Club. First prize was won by Mrs. W. W. Wiper; second, Mrs. W. Sutcliffe, and consolation, Miss Marjory Ferris. Additional guests were welcomed at the tea hour by the president, Miss Barbara Leigh.

A Happy Valley native son, William R. ("Billy") McKay, serving with the Canadian Navy and now on furlough, was the guest of honor Saturday evening in Luxton Hall at a surprise party and dance, about 100 friends attending. The hosts for the occasion were the local Athletic club and members of his family. Mr. and Mrs. George Wilmhurst of Island Highway, and Mr. and Mrs. Neil A. McKay Jr. of Shaligan Lake. Both modern and old-time dancing was enjoyed. W. J. Marshall acting as master of ceremonies and Mrs. N. Bertucci's orchestra supplying the music. Refreshments were served by the ladies, under the supervision of Mesdames G. Duncan, J. T. Gill and Henderson. Miss Patricia Taylor gave a tap dance, which was applauded.

WINDSOR, England (CP)— Princess Elizabeth (above) spent her 14th birthday quietly at Windsor Castle yesterday after a rationed children's party Saturday.

The princess' 90-year-old great-great-uncle, the Duke of Connaught, brother of Edward VII, came to Windsor to congratulate her personally. Friends sent gifts and messages.

With the King and Queen and Princess Margaret Rose, Princess Elizabeth attended Sunday services in the Windsor chapel, which was more crowded than usual. Among the throng were children evacuated from the East End of London.

The usual birthday reception was cancelled because the event this year fell on Sunday. After the service, the Royal family strolled in the park, and in the afternoon drove through Windsor Forest. Public buildings at Windsor were decorated, and the church bells rang to celebrate the occasion.

On Saturday she had a birthday party with a dozen guests. With her sister, Princess Margaret Rose, nine, Princess Elizabeth saved up sufficient sugar from her war-time ration to provide cake, ice cream and sweets for that many guests.

Soldier Names Bike
But Loses Girl

CALGARY (CP)—Private Chester Montgomery, a young Calgary soldier with the Canadian Active Service Force now training at Aldershot camp in England, named his military motorcycle "Vivian" after the girl friend back home, but he doesn't know that Vivian's heart now beats for another.

A dispatch from England said Chester, a dispatch rider with the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, had "Vivian" printed in white letters on the upright plate over the bike's fuel tank. The guard. But Vivian's name will have to disappear from the plate as regulations have a way of being coldly unromantic.

Now Chester has lost the name-plate and also Vivian. The young Calgary woman was married to another man two months before Chester had left. Shortly before Chester went overseas, they quarreled, Vivian said.

Upholds Married Women's Right To Work

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J.—The Young Women's Christian Associations has demanded the right for women to work on an equal footing with men and to keep their jobs—if they want them—after marriage.

The Y.W.C.A., in convention here last week, adopted a platform plank demanding "full opportunity for women in economic life without discrimination because of sex or marital status."

The plank was adopted after Crisis Birrell of New York, outgoing chairman of the Business and Professional Girls' division of the Y.W.C.A. had detailed the difficulties encountered by working girls in their search for economic and marital security.

The convention also endorsed federal and state social legislation, its extension to household, farm and migrant workers;
wage-hour laws, elimination of child labor and industrial homework, social insurance, relief, slum-clearance, low-cost housing, and "the right of all persons to organize," particularly white-collar and household workers, in order to "build a vigorous and responsible labor movement."

A pacifist group at the convention obtained by a close vote the adoption of a plank proposing abolition of "compulsory military training in civil educational institutions," and opposing "any attempt to militarize the N.Y.A. or C.C.F., or other governmental social service agencies."

To Help Buy X-Ray To Send to China

The Committee for Medical Aid to China has been informed by cable from the China Defence League in Hongkong that it has been decided to purchase a British army X-ray instrument from London, at a cost of £366, complete with accessories. After April collections from the boxes in Chinese stores have been made, the committee expects it will have a balance of $650 on hand toward the $1,000 it has promised for this purpose.

Poverty-stricken conditions in the hospitals are described in a recent letter from Dr. Paul Dohan from Honan. He says—in part: "Mien Ch'ih Military Hospital is a transit hospital and nearly every day about 50 newly-wounded come down from the firing-line, which is three days from here by ox-cart. It is well administered, but here again there are no beds and the soldiers lie on the floor with straw mats under them. You can imagine how this adds to the difficulty of examining patients and changing dressings."

Rolling bandages the other day, volunteer workers were greatly pleased to receive a call from a young Canadian who, influenced by reading of the tragic need in China, had come to say that he had decided to give up smoking and would give 10 cents a day to help the Chinese suffering.

One case of rolled and sterilized bandages and dressings, three of hospital supplies, one of blankets and two of refugee clothes comprised a shipment which went forward last week. A shortage of material has made work more difficult lately, and the committee will be grateful for donations of old sheets, pillowcases, damask tablecloths, old and new cotton, flannelette and linen. The office at 617 Broughton Street, is open from 2 to 5 p.m. daily, and on Wednesday and Thursday mornings; telephone E 4735.

Stenographer Wins Sweep On 'Break-up'

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—
A young blonde stenographer, who won approximately $80,000
when the ice in the Tanana River near the town of Nenana broke late Saturday, went to work in the offices of the Civil Aeronautics Authority "as usual" today.

Clara Hansen, 21, who won Alaska's greatest guessing contest, said she had no plans as to the disposition of her sudden wealth.

"I haven't figured it out yet,"
she said.

Miss Hansen was at a dance
Saturday night when she received the news that she had missed by just one minute guessing the exact time the ice would go out.

The ice began moving at 3.27 p.m. and tripped an elaborate measure device, deciding the famous Nenana break-up guessing contest. The contest, begun years ago as a test between local "experts," has grown in size until each year thousands of Alaskans enter guesses.

Dedicate New School Chapel

At a ceremony attended by a large crowd of visitors the new chapel at Fairbridge Farm School, given by an anonymous donor and furnished by gifts from friends of the farm school in England, was dedicated on Saturday by Bishop H. E. Sexton.

Assisting in the dedication service were Rev. H. A. McLeod, representing the Ministerial Association of Victoria; Rev. H. T. Archbold, bishop's chaplain, and Rev. Canon T. M. Hughes, chaplain of the school.

"This school chapel is to be forever set apart as a church from all secular and profane use and dedicated to the service of God for the celebration of Divine worship," Bishop Sexton said.

In blue cassocks and white surplices the school choir gave a beautiful rendition of the anthem, "Lord At All Times I Will Praise Thee." L. A. Grogan conducted and presided at the organ. The hymns included "Unto The Hills Around," "All Things Bright and Beautiful" and the recessional, "On Our Way Rejoicing." Mr. McLeod read the lesson and Right Rev. W. R. Adams, Bishop of Kootenay, pronounced the blessing.

Greetings of the Fairbridge Farm Schools Society in London were conveyed in a letter read by Col. H. T. Logan, principal.

Divine services formerly were held in the school gymnasium. The chamber organ of the new chapel was the gift of Mrs. W. N. Mitchell, Halsway Manor, Somerset. A memorial window was donated by Sir Edward Beatty and

When Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kirchin, 146 Regina Avenue, were married in 1911, Mrs. Kirchin gave her husband a signet ring as a wedding gift. He lost it in his garden.

Last Saturday, 29 years later, while weeding, Mr. Kirchin uprooted a dandelion whose root had entwined about the ring. The ring was in perfectly good condition, and the initials on it, "G.W.K., 1911," were quite discernible.

"The Bible and Present Events" will be the topic of the address to be given by E. E. Richards at 8 in the Campbell Building under the auspices of the British-Israel World Federation.

The speaker will discuss present events and the question of the continuance of the British Empire and its free institutions or the supremacy of German militarism and autocracy. He will review the century of peace on the seas under the British fleet 1814 to 1914, and today's events in the Baltic. ## TORONTO SOLDIERS GUARD PALACE

LONDON (CP) — The King met his Toronto Scottish guard for the first time this morning when he returned to Buckingham Palace after a brief holiday at Windsor Castle.

There was no ceremony as the monarch, accompanied by the Queen, swept into the Palace grounds in an automobile. The battle-dressed Canadians smartly presented arms as the King saluted and the Queen acknowledged the cheers of a small crowd gathered before the gates.

Princess Elizabeth, 14 yesterday, and Princess Margaret Rose accompanied Their Majesties. Later Queen Mother Mary arrived for a family birthday luncheon party.

A sergeant of the Toronto Scottish was detailed to serve as orderly to the King, and two others named as messengers will carry the Royal Commands for the next four days.

Sightseers noted the Toronto Scottish have been allowed to retain their distinctive headgear while guarding the palaces. They carry the steel hats, now part of regulation equipment of the royal guard, slung at the left shoulder.

It is understood Their Majesties will be present when the Toronto Scottish hand over to the next Royal Guard Thursday. A large crowd yesterday watched the regiment take over guard duty at Buckingham and St. James' Palaces from the Royal 22nd Regiment of Quebec.

"We are so well accustomed to the British Empire to the fellowship of peoples under the crown," said The Times of London today, "that it is difficult to appreciate the full significance of the relief of the Irish Guards by the Royal 22nd Regiment of Quebec."

That Canadian regiment last week took over the guard.

"Let him who attempted to see it as no more than a matter of military routine try to imagine a Bohemian regiment speaking the Czech language mounting guard at Berchtesgaden," The Times continued. "He may then be able to estimate the worth of propaganda that represents the present war to neutral audiences as a struggle between rival imperialisms."

2 R.C.A.F. MEN KILLED BY TRAIN

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP) — Two members of the Royal Canadian Air Force, both natives of Ottawa, were killed today when a Canadian National freight train struck their automobile at a level crossing three miles from here.

The victims were Cpl. Hugh Powers, 28, and Cpl. Cecil Hale, 32. Aircraftman Thomas McLean, 30, Ottawa, and Harold Musgrave, 23, North Sydney, N.S., the other occupants of the car, were injured seriously. A blinding snowstorm was blamed for the crash. The car was owned and driven by Musgrave, employed at the C.N.R. roundhouse at North Sydney. He was driving the three R.C.A.F. men to that town from Sydney.

The freight locomotive crumpled the light car like tissue paper. Wreckage was strewn 50 feet along the right-of-way.

Powers and Hale, who had suffered skull fractures, died shortly after they had been brought to the hospital here. McLean and Musgrave regained consciousness. Physicians said they had been seriously hurt.

11 Killed When Cars Hit Head-on

SLAYTON, Minn. (AP) — A head-on collision of two automobiles so terrific that gears flew out of their steel cases took the lives of 11 young persons near here. Two other persons were injured.

So violent was the collision that seven died instantly and one of the bodies was hurled 60 feet from the wreckage. Others were strewn on the highway.

Seven persons were riding in one machine and six in the other. The dead: Wayne Gamble, 17, driver; Everett Johnson, 17; Irene Swab, 17; Harold and Lawrence Tuynman, brothers, 18 and 19, respectively; Rachel Fisher, 17;

George Larson, 20, driver of the second machine; Carl A. Falk, 21; Gordon Meyers, 23; Leo Egge, 18, and Hollis Luft, 21.

Near death in a hospital today with five crushed vertebrae and other injuries was Cecil Jensen, 17, passenger in the Larson car. Elmer Meyers, also riding in the Larson car, suffered a fracture of one arm and severe shock.

He was named joint pensions minister in 1916, served as a member of Lloyd George's war cabinet in 1917, and was a Minister without portfolio in 1919, when appointed a delegate to the Peace Conference.

He visited the United States as a delegate to the International Labor Conference at Washington in 1919, and was elected vice-president. Mr. Barnes was general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers from 1896 to 1908, and was the author of numerous books on labor problems.

About the middle of the first Great War Mr. Barnes toured Canada. Victoria was one of the cities he visited.

SO SCIENCE MADE THIS BETTER OIL

● The efficiency of the modern automobile engine has advanced a long way over the engine of a few years ago. It is 25% smaller, its weight has been decreased 35%, yet it develops double the horse power.

The modern engine runs faster and consequently hotter. Clearances between bearing surfaces have been reduced while compression ratios have been increased.

Lubrication, therefore, is more important than ever. The New Marvelube developed in Imperial Oil research laboratories is engineered for the faster, hotter running engines of today.

The original Marvelube has long been a leader among motor oils. The New Marvelube retains all the original high qualities—now also it possesses these improved characteristics:

It lasts longer. At today's high speeds and temperatures it gives maximum oil mileage.

It keeps engines cleaner. It will give you that lively feeling of instant, surging power. Wear is reduced. Upkeep costs come down.

So, take advantage of this outstanding new oil—now! Drive in where you see the Imperial Oval Sign.

West's Gain Cup Final Easily

Tommy Restell's Victoria West soccer squad gained the Jackson Cup final against Victoria City yesterday afternoon via a 7 to 1 victory over Esquimalt, in a semi-final match at Bullen Park.

No definite date has been set for the playing of the final as yet, but it is understood the football commissioners are trying to arrange the match for Wednesday evening. Athletic Park has been reserved next Saturday for an all-juvenile program.

The green-shirts from the west side of the city had it over the Esquimalt lads like a tent. At the halfway mark they were ahead 5 to 0. In final half play West's bagged a couple of goals to one return.

Alec Dallimore opened Victoria West's scoring on a penalty kick and soon after Esquimalt's Barnswell muffed a kick from the spot. Dallimore made it 2 to 0 on a hard first-timer on Fred Williams' cross and some time later Kitching took the ball goalie Elliott fumbled and scored to raise the West total to three goals. Before the half arrived Dallimore scored his third marker, on Roy Okell's pass, and Johnny Munroe added one on a breakaway.

In early second-half play John Watt missed a penalty kick for Esquimalt, but Barnswell came back later to register his team's only tally on Harbinson's cross. Cooper and Marsh tallied to complete the West total before the game ended.

West's Fred Williams and Esquimalt's Jim Stewart were ordered off the field for fighting by referee Dowds 15 minutes before the end of the game.

HUSKIES SCORE TWIN TRIUMPH

SEATTLE (AP) — Although they didn't know which California crew they'd row against until they read the morning papers, the University of Washington Varsity and Junior Varsity galleys took no chances Saturday and knocked off both of them in the 38th renewal of the Pacific coast intercollegiate rowing regatta on Lake Washington here.

The Washington Varsity came from behind to triumph by just a shade under two lengths, and the husky Junior Varsity oarsmen conquered the Bears by a length and a half.

A California victory in the freshman race—first time in 11 years against the Washington yearlings—saved the golden staters from suffering their ninth complete whitewash in the annual classic.

Official times were as follows: Varsity three-mile—Washington 17:15.8, California 17:23.3. Jayvee three-mile—Washington 17:38.10, California 17:44.9. Freshman two-mile—California 11:08.6, Washington 11:12.7.

Parade in London

LONDON (CP) — Canadian veterans of the first Great War commemorated the 25th anniversary of the Second Battle of Ypres—and the first German gas attack—with a parade and church service yesterday.

Ranks of the veterans included some 35 soldiers of the Canadian Active Service Force, oldtimers returned for another crack at the same enemy they fought a quarter-century ago.

About 150 veterans in civilian clothes with red arm bands bearing the word "Canada," many of them wearing medals, drew up on the Horseguards Parade with their uniformed comrades. There Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the 1st Canadian Division, inspected them. Accompanying him were Major-General V. W. Odium, commander of the 2nd Canadian Division; C. W. Evans, formerly of Winnipeg and chairman of the London association of Canadian ex-servicemen, which organized the ceremony.

Behind two pipers of the Wembley branch of the British Legion most of the Canadians marched through the Admiralty Arch across Trafalgar Square to the

'Originals' Talk About Gas Attack

The anniversary of the second battle of Ypres, which took place 25 years ago today, was commemorated Saturday night when more than 100 veterans of Imperial and Dominion forces in France during the Great War, attended the annual dinner of the Red Chevron Association of Vancouver Island in Spencer's dining-room.

Many of the units of the First Canadian Division, which mustered at Valcartier in August, 1914, were represented. Some of those who attended were in uniform for the second time.

The dinner was opened with a tribute to those who were killed in action, and three members of the Chevrons who passed away during the year. As the gathering stood in silence, Captain Charles Wilson piped "The Flowers of the Forest."

An interesting ceremony took place with Sergeant-Major Shelton receiving the meritorious Service Medal for long service in India and other Empire posts. Lieut.-Col. H. M. Urquhart made the presentation.

A telegram of congratulations was sent to Major-General Victor Odium, an "Original," who is in command of the Second Division, Canadian Active Service Force.

The remainder of the evening was spent as an informal reunion with a musical program. A 12-piece orchestra under William Easton-entertained. Cecil Heaton was pianist and T. Gaunt acted as master of ceremonies. Among the artists who contributed vocal and instrumental numbers were Arthur Jackman, Sydney Chiverall, Monte Gosnell, Len Foster and William Crouch.

Veterans Make War Suggestions

Increase of Dominion government efforts to curtail subversive activities in Canada, registration of all persons of foreign birth in Canada, registration of all persons of foreign birth in Canada who are still unassimilated and manifesting of allegiance to the country of all workmen on government jobs, were among resolutions passed at the meeting of the Provincial Command, Army and Navy Veterans, Saturday.

Another resolution passed by the delegates from North Vancouver, Central Park, Marpole, Surrey, White Rock, East Vancouver, New Westminster, Vancouver, Ladysmith and Victoria, changed the name of the organization to the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans, or another name which would include men of His Majesty's Air Forces. The resolution resulted from numerous applications for membership from present and ex-members of the R.C.A.F.

Another resolution urged the Dominion command to press for an active continuance of the National Veterans' Council.

In order to facilitate the handling of pensions and other matters relating to ex-servicemen in outlying and unorganized districts, it was recommended that any bona-fide members of the Army, Navy and Air Veterans residing in such districts be given the authority to act as official representatives of the organization in carrying out its work.

As a contribution towards Canada's war effort the meeting urged the Dominion command to take under advisement the possibility of fully equipping an ambulance for overseas service.

The visiting delegates were guests at a luncheon in Spencer's presided over by Major T. R. Wheadon, V.D., local president.

Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, the provincial president, was chairman of the business sessions.

Chungking, inland capital of the Chinese republic, has attracted the greatest gathering of talent, skill and brains in modern China's history, says a professor of political science, recently returned from the Orient.

church of St. Martin-in-the-Fields. Col. A. Hamilton Gault, founder of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, and four others crippled in the first Great War rode to the church in an automobile.

Heading the parade were Mr. Evans, General McNaughton, General Odium and Lieut.-Col. W. Rae, D.S.O., formerly of Vancouver and vice-president of the association. Colonel C. P. Edwards of Ottawa, Lieut.-Col. G. R. Turner, general staff officer, and Captain Victor MacLean of Vancouver were with them.

Bishop Walter Carey, formerly Bishop of Bloemfontein, South Africa, who delivered the sermon, declared the British Empire was the "nearest approach to a league of nations and to brotherhood of man that we shall ever see in our time."

SEES U.S. IN WAR ON ALLIES' SIDE

TORONTO (CP) — Lawrence Hunt of New York, former senior litigation attorney for the United States National Labor Relations

Board, told the Canadian Club of Toronto in an address today that the United States eventually will enter the war on the side of the Allies.

Despite the expressions of neutrality on the part of the country's leaders and the propaganda of Germany and Russia, Mr. Hunt said, "we in America are slowly, very slowly but surely, forming our judgments and reaching our decisions about our part in the war."

"Our moral traditions, like yours, include not only religious faith but also a basic belief in the freedom and dignity of the individual citizen," he declared.

"But what the Nazi-Communist propagandists forget is that we have fought for that belief in the past, we'll fight for it again, and we'll always fight for it so long as we remain free men."

Will Italy Cling to Peace— Or Will She Embark on War?

Violent press attacks against the Allies and significant diplomatic moves have led the world to believe Italy may soon drop her neutrality status and enter the war on Hitler's side. Still perched on the fence as a "nonbelligerent," Premier Mussolini is (right) exhorting his army to be ready for "any emergency." Since he is seldom seen in public wearing civilian clothes, this photograph of Signor Mussolini is unusual (left). He is turning the handle of a new machine designed to extract iron from the soil. Italy lacks most essential raw materials and such innovations are designed to help make her self-sufficient.

Foreign observers feel that Italy's King Victor Emmanuel and other members of the royal family are opposed to having their country plunged into war on the side of Germany. Their sympathies are said to lean toward the Allies. The Italian monarch is seen in uniform (left) as he greeted former King Alfonso of Spain before war rumblings were heard. Crown Prince Umberto of Italy and Princess Marie Jose, sister of Belgium's king, are seen (right) during a royal tour of Sardinia, when the princess donned a frilly native dress at Sassari.

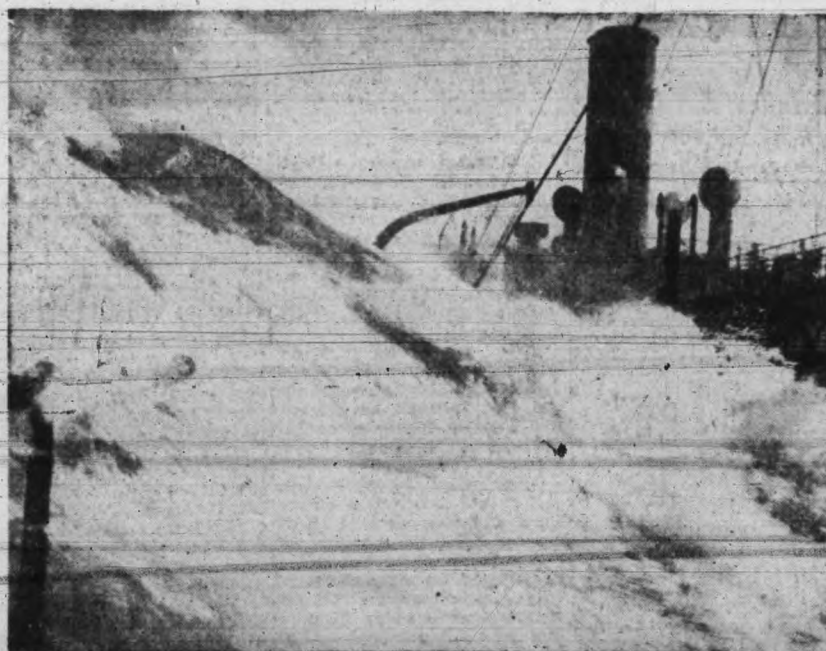

Believed to have been groomed by Mussolini as his successor, Count Galeazzo Ciano, his son-in-law, even attempts to emulate the Mussolini scowl. Illness has kept Foreign Minister Ciano out of the diplomatic picture for the past days.

IN FAMILIAR WATERS—Admiral Sir Charles M. Forbes, pictured above, commander-in-chief of the British Home Fleet, is the directing head of the British navy's operations along Scandinavia's coast.

TRAVELING HOUSE—When Mrs. Laura Bingham moved from Avalon, N.J., to Cape May Courthouse, N.J., she decided to take her two-story house along. Here it is on a barge beginning the 14-mile trip by water.

MERCHANTMEN ARE REAL HEROES—Unsung heroes of the Empire are the men who sail in British convoys and maintain commerce on the high seas in the face of torpedo attacks and the fury of Atlantic storms. Buried beneath tons of cascading water is this oil tanker as she fought her way through seas off Cape Hatteras, known as "the graveyard of the Atlantic."

BELGIUM HAS A LOUD VOICE, TOO—Belgium's coastal defences are being tightened against the time of threatened Nazi invasion. Here the huge railway cannon is manned by the gun crew which has just received the warning signal.

GYPSY TO SERVE AGAIN—Sunk in the opening phases of the war by a German bomb off England's east coast, the British destroyer, Gypsy, has been raised from her seabottom grave. She is shown here after salvagers had manoeuvred her toward shore and beached the damaged hulk. After the warship is fully reconditioned, she will again be placed in service on the high seas.

BRITAIN'S NEW AIR MINISTER VISITS R.A.F. STATION—Sir Samuel Hoare, who recently succeeded Sir Kingsley Wood as air minister in the British war cabinet, is shown inspecting an auxiliary of the Royal Air Force station near London. Sir Samuel was made honorary air commodore of this squadron.

ITS FOLLOWERS no longer complain about lack of color that was professional golf's during the golden days of Walter Hagen. Not with James Newton Demaret around.

With the winning of the Masters' Tournament, Jimmy Demaret definitely became the Royal and Ancient's No. 1 man in the U.S. In addition to being the most consistent and lowest scorer, he outstripped the blazing Samuel Jackson Sneed in gallery popularity.

Personable and gracious, Demaret carries his appeal beyond the tee, fairway and green. The Texan is the toast of the clubhouse... the centre of attraction in the locker room... the newspaperman's delight. Caddies telegraph congratulations.

Demaret closely resembles Hagen, even to flamboyant ensembles. The Haig was about his build—5 feet 11 and weighing 184 pounds—when the Rochester veteran was cock of the walk.

Nothing fazes him—wind, rain, cold, heat or ptomaine poisoning, which had him so ill before his third round in the Masters' his start had to be held up an hour.

He admits it was just as well for him that only 18 holes were carded the final day. He was that weak, yet he turned in a 71 over the Augusta National course with some of its holes cut on greens where it was almost impossible to get the ball into the cup.

That 71, tacked on a 67, 72 and 70, gave him 280 and a four-stroke margin over the bulk of the field in the seven-year history of the event.

After he had bagged the Masters', Demaret was asked what his biggest ambition was in golf.

"Oh, I'd like to win the national open, but I really have no golfing ambition," he replied.

"I have never aspired to be anything more than a good club professional and greenskeeper, and I realized that ambition when I was made head professional of the Blue Burn Country Club of Houston."

That is one of the numerous reasons why Demaret, a caddy at seven, winner of a caddy's tournament at 10 and an assistant professional while in high school, is at 29 the hottest golfer of the day. He is never under pressure.

Following the Masters', Demaret flew to Houston, where he gives 60 lessons a week. He will go to New York for the Goodall Round Robin Invitation at Fresh Meadow, May 16-19, and will then go to Cleveland to acquaint himself with the Canterbury course, scene of the United States open, June 6-8.

Demaret capped six of the 11 tournaments he entered the past winter, including the Masters', Western Open, and the $10,000 New Orleans Open.

His average for the 34 rounds in all kinds of weather was 70.7.

No other player has had such a streak in modern competitive golf. And Jimmy Demaret is vastly more than a grand competitive golfer. He adds a great deal to the show... the nearest thing to Walter Hagen one could ever hope to see.

RIGGS BEATS GRANT

HOUSTON (AP) — Bobby Riggs, stealing catlike across court to engineer tremendous baseline shots, ran Betsy Grant into the ground yesterday in the finals of the River Oaks tennis tournament, 7-5, 6-3, 7-5.

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fryban of Boston, No. 3 United States woman player, won the women's singles, defeating Mary Hardwick, English Wightman Cup player, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2.

Don't give up hope Dr. Poyntz and company!

For there is still a chance that the Pacific Coast Football League championship may even yet come to Victoria.

At the present time, however, North Shore United of the mainland are in the best position to lift the coveted laurels. They won this place here Saturday at Athletic Park when they traveled through 90 minutes of hot round-bell warfare with Victoria United to a 2 to 2 draw. About 1,000 persons attended the scene of battle.

Saturday's verdict left the locals still in top place with a one-point margin over North Shore, 19 to 18, but Shores still have two games to play—against Radials and St. Andrews—to Victoria's one, against St. Andrews. If Shores win both of their games, the title is theirs. On the other hand, provided the locals beat Andrews, cellar team, which shouldn't be difficult, and Shores lose or draw a game, Victoria still has a fighting chance, a draw meaning a deadlock between the two and forcing a playoff, a defeat giving Victoria the laurels without a further contest.

Radials, according to Vancouver advice, lost their chance of overtaking Victoria or North Shore on Saturday through a 2 to 2 draw match with St. Saviours in Vancouver. Radials have 13 points and three games in hand.

SCRAPPY GAME Saturday's tussle here was one of the scrappiest witnessed this season, providing the large crowd with some thrilling moments. North Shore was down two goals before they started to fight back, and finally succeeded in getting a draw. A victory for the locals in this game would have practically clinched the championship for them.

And the locals nearly got their victory in the last two minutes of play when Ralph Cosier set up a nice shot for Jimmy Worswick in front of the posts. Worswick shot but alert goalie Jack Rabbit diverted from the other side of the net and just managed to get his hand on the ball to stop its flight.

Victoria, with the wind and sun at their backs, had the best of first-half play right up to within five minutes of the breather and during that time scored their two goals, Worswick and Noel Morgan scoring pretty goals on corner kicks by Tony Hoop.

SHORES GET HOT Just after Worswick had netted the second goal, North Shore started to hit their stride and in the five minutes before the breather chalked up their first tally. Don Matheson doing the bootwork. All through the second half the visiting redshirts, with the elements in their favor, poured on the pressure around Victoria's goal, but a strong defence and fine netminding by Bobby Moss limited them to single goals.

The tie, one, scored by Mike McManus, centre-forward, halfway through the half. It was the game's best goal, Mac drawing away the defence and scoring high into the net. Victoria attacks were scarce but dangerous in this session.

Victoria was left weakened when Gordie Bell, star forward, wrenched his previously-injured knee. He went off six minutes before the half and could not return. Cliff Robbins replaced him. Roy Barnes, left half, played a fine game, as did Wilkinson and Bobby Bell and Moss for Victoria. Outstanding for North Shore were McManus, McLeod and Matheson, forwards, who did most of shooting, and Goodheart, left half.

Other scorers were: Bobby Walcott, Stu Smith, Joe Brown and Al Duff of Kirkland Lake and Les Thirlwell of Calgary. Syd Fenn, defenceman of the Stampede, earned three scoring points.

Both goalies, Johnny Durnan of Kirkland Lake and Art Rice-Jones, Calgary, put in a hectic session. About the only time the bombardment let up was in the third period when the elongated Calgary netminder went off for repairs after stopping Cooper's shot with his forehead. After Rice-Jones dropped to the ice on the play, Pat Hill stepped into the net, but he couldn't prevent Cooper from hammering in his own rebound.

Official Opening Of Bowling Greens The Lake Hill Lawn Bowling Club will hold its official opening on Saturday at 2.30. A good attendance of members is expected. The green will also be open for play Wednesday afternoon.

Calgary One Down

Play Again Tonight

TORONTO (CP)—Both teams vowing to do better, Kirkland Lake Blue Devils and Calgary Stampede go into action again tonight as the Allan Cup hockey finals resume here. Blue Devils won the first of the best-of-five series 8 to 5 before 13,359 fans Saturday.

Never before has a Canadian senior final here produced such a multitude of goals and the rival players blame their long lay-off for the loose play. It was the first game in a week for Blue Devils and the first for Calgary since last Monday.

Playing coach Lex Cox of the Lakeshore team said the Blue Devils were "pretty lucky on two or three goals and we've got to play a lot better than we did to win this series." Marty Burke, Calgary coach, said he had no alibis to offer. "We think we can make a good series out of this yet," he added.

The eastern champions got a goal in the first 16 seconds and that was a good indication of what was to come. The Stampede used up most of the first period before levelling the score. A wild second period produced seven goals, Kirkland Lake getting the first three then splitting the other four. Each team added two to their total in the third.

SCORING POWER

Each team showed a high-powered scoring threesome. Dick Kowcinak, Al Cooper and Bink Bellinger of Blue Devils picked up seven scoring points against the Westerners. Kowcinak, Cooper, Burke and Shannon each scored a brace of goals.

Gives Up Title

MONTREAL (CP)—Dave Castilloux, heavy-hitting Montreal boxer, yesterday renounced his claims to the Canadian featherweight championship, which he has held since 1938 with the Canadian lightweight title.

Castilloux said he was retiring from the featherweight class because of inability to make the weight limit of 126 pounds. He won the title from Jackie Callura of Hamilton, Ont., in May, 1938, but has never had occasion to defend it.

nightcap to earn his second victory of the week and present Oakland with its fifth win in the seven game series.

San Diego, chief claimant to Oakland's leadership, swept both ends of yesterday's doubleheader with Hollywood, winning 5 to 0 and 5 to 3.

Seattle split Sunday's twin bill with Los Angeles, winning the first 8 to 3, and losing the second 6 to 3. They took two drubbings Saturday night.

A five run spurge in the eighth frame of Sunday's opener brought victory to Seattle. In the seven inning nightcap, the Los Angeles Angels chalked up two runs in the second stanza and brought in one in each of the last four innings to assure victory.

The Portland Beavers walked over the San Francisco Seals twice Sunday, 10 to 2 and 9 to 3, after also winning Saturday. To move out of the league's cellar, Portland won the first game in the third inning when it tallied six runs on four hits, three walks and an error. In the second game the Beavers big inning was the third when they scored four runs after two were out.

Ferris Fain, San Francisco right fielder, hit homers for two of the Seals runs, one in the first and another in the third. Jack Burns, first baseman, doubled to bring in the other run.

Arthur Jones THINKS OF HOME

SOMEWHERE in a Canadian Camp tonight, Arthur Jones is writing a letter.

Drills, route marches, patrols, sentry duties are over for another day. Soon his training will be finished... soon he will take his place on active service... to fight a foe who has forgotten God.

In the warm comfort of a 'Y' Hut his thoughts naturally turn to home—his mother, father, friends and all those cherished things he has left behind at the call of Duty. He does not regret that sacrifice, but how dear those memories seem to him now. That little frame house... his Mother's smile... the beauty of that Canadian Fall when he and his friends gathered after the day's work for games, or perhaps a friendly discussion as they planned their future in the peace of that growing Canadian town. For they were young, keen, hopeful boys-together and the future seemed so full of promise then.

How unreal it all seems now—how fantastic this change which has been thrust upon him... his hopes, his ambitions, his very faith seem shaken to the root. He needs some influence to keep alive those ideals he cherished once... to save him from disillusionment, demoralization, and discontent... some comfort and cheer, some entertainment and recreation, some companionship and inspiration to refresh and strengthen him in body, mind and spirit. Where will he find it?

Through off-duty programmes in Camps and Barracks throughout Canada and overseas, the Canadian Y.M.C.A. is endeavouring to supply these needs... games, literature, motion pictures, concerts, dances, refreshments, stationery and other home comforts. 'Y' secretaries are at work organizing sports, informal education and inspirational meetings to relieve the monotony... to preserve the morale... to strengthen the spirit of Arthur Jones and his many comrades on service today.

Since the outbreak of war this vital Christian work has been carried on... already 34 Y.M.C.A. Huts and centres are operating throughout Canada and overseas. Now your help is needed if this work is to be continued and extended to our boys in the Navy, Army and Air Force.

This is a duty we cannot shirk. The morale of the troops is vital in winning victory. To preserve that morale until they return is essential to the up-building of Canada after the war.

The Y.M.C.A. is now appealing for funds to carry on this work—$1,038,000 is urgently needed NOW—and to the Canadian public the 'Y' turns with faith and confidence that we shall not fail those who are giving so much to preserve for us the democratic way of life. When the voluntary worker calls on you give promptly and generously and so help in providing our boys with these essential comforts and services wherever they may be.

Y.M.C.A. The Boys depend on the 'Y' ...the 'Y' depends on YOU

Here the name "Arthur Jones" is used as a symbol—he may be your boy or any boy on service today in the Army, Navy or Air Force. His experiences and needs, however, are common to all.
